

SENIOR INVESTMENT OFFICER PROJECT FINANCE

Looking for a new opportunity? Interested in joining a team with the goal of encouraging economic growth and increasing job opportunities in Alaska? Then check out the details for our Senior Investment Officer Project Finance position with Alaska Industrial Development and Export Authority (AIDEA).

Our Senior Investment Officer Project Finance is within AIDEA's Project Finance and Asset Management (PFAM) group, providing project investment and project development analysis, financial structuring, financial and economic analysis and portfolio management services across the lifecycle of horizontal and vertical infrastructure projects in all major sectors and in public private partnership (PPP) projects.

This position requires a minimum of ten years of quantitative transactional finance or commercial bank lending experience, with a focus on project/structured finance of large, complex infrastructure projects. Prior experience in project financing of government sponsored PPP projects strongly preferred. Prior experience in project development within the commercial and industrial sectors represented in AIDEA's loan and investment portfolio (including oil and gas, mining, roads, ports/terminals, shipbuilding and repair, commercial office space, warehousing, tourism, logistics, and federal facilities) strongly preferred. Experience in preparing bankability feasibility studies/business cases for infrastructure projects, including PPP transactions. Experience taking projects to financial close. Bachelor's degree in accounting, finance, economics, statistics, business administration, or another related field required. MBA is preferred.
